Vergilius is for all those who are interested in Vergilian studies. The editor welcomes scholarly submissions on all aspects of Vergil without restrictions (see Annual Bibliography for range of topics), as well as poetry and translation inspired by Vergil's work. Submissions on Vergilian pedagogy and responses to pieces published in Vergilius will also be considered.

Vergilius invites the submission of books in the areas listed in the Annual Bibliography, whether or not Vergil appears in the title. Books for review should be sent to Hunter Gardner, Editor, Vergilius, Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures, Welsh Humanities Office Building, 1620 College St., Columbia, SC 29208, USA.

Prospective contributors should submit manuscripts by email to gardnehh@mailbox.sc.edu. Vergilius follows the Chicago Manual of Style, 17th edition in most respects. Vergilius has adopted the author-date system of references beginning with volume 60 (2014). For the author-date reference style see CMS §17. Abbreviations for classical authors and titles follow the Oxford Classical Dictionary. Greek text must be typed in Unicode format, and all work should be submitted electronically in both MS Word and PDF formats. Images should be grayscale at a minimum resolution of 300 dpi and submitted as separate image files. Simultaneous submissions are not accepted. Author guidelines may be found at <https://www.vergiliansociety.org/vergilius-journal/vergilius-author-guidelines/>.

Subscriptions through membership in The Vergilian Society: Institutional member $150; New member $30; Regular member $50 (overseas $60); Retired member $35; Student member $18, per annum, in US dollars.
